Worship Team Ministry Agreement

Thank you for your interest in serving as a volunteer on the Worship Team.

By stepping into a leadership role on our worship team, you are stepping into a position of authority. Our attendees (guests) will watch you closely and take what you say and do seriously. And we think it can be a good thing. Leaders should be role models. The challenge is that being a role model is all encompassing.

As a role model, your lifestyle is part of the equation. How you present yourself on Sunday should be consistent with who you are in various ministry roles during the remainder of the week.

In the past, that was all that needed to be said. There was a consensus around what constituted consistency between a relationship with Jesus and life in general. As culture has changed, however, there is a need to be more specific. The three issues that surface most have to do with sexual relationships, substance abuse and social media.

The last thing we want to do is put you in a position where you feel pressure to teach, represent, or appear to give assent to a view on one of these subjects that you do not personally embrace. So on these three subjects, here is what we expect volunteers to communicate and model:

Regarding Sexual Behavior

We believe that the scripture teaches that sex was created by God as an expression of intimacy between a man and a woman within the context of marriage. Volunteers who embrace lifestyles or behaviors that conflict with this teaching will eventually find themselves having to pretend to be something they are not or believing something they don't. In an effort to protect you from a potentially awkward situation, we ask the following:

1. If you are involved in a sexual relationship and are not married, we ask that you do not lead on the worship team ministry at this time.
2. In the spirit of being a good role model, if you are single and living with a member of the opposite sex, we ask that you not lead at this time. We do not want to put you in an awkward position of having to explain your arrangement if someone asks to visit your home.
3. If you are married and have recently been involved in a sexual relationship outside of your marriage, we ask that you do not lead at this time.

4. Our standards for personal purity extend to your regular viewing of pornographic materials. If that is a current area of struggle, we ask that you do not lead until you are experiencing significant freedom in this area.

Regarding Substance Abuse

If you have a history of alcohol or drug abuse, this might be something God uses in a positive way to influence others to go in a different direction. If you feel that this is part of your journey, we would love to talk with you further. While we might disagree on the timing of your involvement, we don't want to miss an opportunity to partner with what God is up to in your life.

1. If you have been arrested for or convicted of an alcohol or drug related offense in the past twelve months, we ask that you not lead at this time.
2. If you have used any illegal substances during the last twelve months, we ask you not to lead at this time.
3. If consuming alcohol to the point of being unable to drive or to the point of being illegal for you to drive yourself home is a regular part of your weekend or weekday/night routine, we ask you not to lead at this time.

Regarding Social Media

The people we lead judge the credibility of our message by the content of our lives. Substance abuse and sexual integrity are but two areas they'll watch; our financial stewardship, the way we engage with politics, our social media practices, how we treat our families and the way we respond to crises are some of the things they will notice.

The participants in this ministry will visit your Facebook page. If you blog or maintain a Twitter account, some in this ministry will opt to connect with you through those mediums as well. While social media can be a great connection tool, it also serves as a window into your life beyond this ministry involvement. In light of that, we ask that you leverage social media with your ministry associates in mind. We realize that this is a judgment call.

If you have any questions regarding your specific situation and the requirements outlined in this document, please do not hesitate to contact us.
